ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE ON BANKING AND FINANCE

Sacramento - The newest member of the Assembly Banking and Finance committee is from Orange County.

Speaker Robert Hertzberg has announced that Assemblymember Lou Correa (D-69th District, Santa Ana) will now immediately serve on the Assembly's Banking and Finance committee. The committee's primary jurisdictions are all legislation impacting financial institutions, real property finance, and corporate securities law.

Assemblymember Lou Correa, known as one of the Assembly's moderate Democrats, will replace Assemblywoman Carole Migden on the committee.

Assemblymember Correa thanked the Speaker for the appointment and went on to add that he was looking forward to putting his previous ten years of private sector international corporate finance experience to work on behalf of California.

In addition to the Banking committee, Assemblymember Correa continues to serve on the Appropriations, Education, Jobs, Economic Development, and the Economy, and Local Government committees.

Correa also chairs the Assembly Business and Professions Committee, along with the Assembly Select Committee on Mobilehomes.
